Regulating Cannabis Products

Day Pitney New Jersey Partners James Leva, Michael Fitzpatrick, and Associate Taylor Spallanzani recently co-authored the 2025 update to Chapter 12, “Regulating Cannabis Products,” in Practicing Law Institute's Product Liability Litigation treatise.

The chapter offers a comprehensive analysis of federal and state cannabis regulations, including recent rescheduling efforts, FDA enforcement trends, and the evolving landscape of product liability litigation. It also explores key issues such as dual sovereignty, preemption, and emerging product liability litigation, including labeling and health-related claims.
