Connecticut Law Tribune Publishes Energy Article by Dave Doot and Flossie Davis

Dave Doot and Flossie Davis wrote an article for the Connecticut Law Tribune that provides an overview of legal and policy issues related to smart grid development. "Getting Smart About Grid Modernization" looks at the steps Connecticut may be taking to implement a more robust and modern grid system. The article notes there are several factors to consider, including data security and privacy, interoperability and consumer protection.
