Jim Bowers and Rick Harris Write Article for Connecticut Law Tribune on Health Provider Cybersecurity

Jim Bowers and Rick Harris wrote the article, "Cybersecurity Compliance Poses Challenge for Providers," for The Connecticut Law Tribune. The article takes a closer look at the data breaches that have recently affected the health care industry in the past 12 months, how the unauthorized access to health providers' digital systems is a possible violation of the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act, and best practices and the implementation of a comprehensive data-security compliance program.
