December 8, 2014

Rachel Gonzalez Authors Article on Deferred Action for New Jersey Law Journal

Rachel Gonzalez authored an article, "You Have Employees Who Received Deferred Action--Now What?," for the New Jersey Law Journal's special supplement on employment and immigration law, published on December 8. She addresses employment issues for those granted work authorization under the 2012 Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals program and the recent executive action, known as the Deferred Action for Parental Accountability program.

Please click here for full article.