COVID-19 Impact on Florida Real Estate - Suspending Foreclosures and Residential Evictions Until August 1, 2020

State-mandated closures and other governmental regulations issued to mitigate the spread of COVID-19 are drastically impacting the real estate world. Day Pitney continues to evaluate the rapidly changing legal landscape in order to provide the most up-to-date information together with practical business counsel to our clients, advisors and partners.

These are truly unprecedented times, resulting in novel questions for all parties involved as they try to understand their respective rights and obligations. All parties will need to work collaboratively to come up with reasonable and practical solutions under their particular circumstances to provide what will ideally be short-term relief to preserve long-term objectives.

On June 30, Florida Gov. Ron DeSantis issued an executive order further suspending foreclosures and residential evictions until August 1, 2020. The order also tolls the applicable statute of limitations until August 1, 2020. Further details of the applicable orders can be found here: initial order # 20-94, first extension order # 20-121, second extension order # 20-137 and third extension order # 20-159.

Please stay safe and healthy. We all look forward to getting back to "business as usual" as soon as possible. In the meantime, Day Pitney is here to help you navigate these extraordinary circumstances.
