Kyle Kammien

Associate

Washington, D.C. | (202) 218-4380

kkammien@daypitney.com

Overview

Kyle Kammien advises clients on regulatory compliance, energy law, and clean energy-related policy issues, drawing on nearly a decade of experience in government affairs and clean energy policy advocacy. Prior to joining the firm, Kyle served as the National Policy Director at Dream.org, where he led federal clean energy policy campaigns and built coalitions focused on equity and sustainability. His background also includes a role in corporate stakeholder engagement and grassroots advocacy at Citizens' Climate Lobby. Prior to that, Kyle worked in government affairs and managed the Political Action Committee at The Home Depot.

Education and Credentials

Education

George Washington University Law School, J.D., 2024

Saint Louis University, Richard A. Chaifetz School of Business, B.S., 2015

Admissions

District of Columbia

Insights

FERC Issues Show Cause Orders to Six RTOs/ISOs on Large Load Integration
Day Pitney Alert, June 23, 2026

Alert: Federal Energy Regulatory Commission Orders Major PJM Tariff Reforms for Co-Located Load and Behind-the-Meter Generation
Day Pitney Alert, December 19, 2025

Practices & Industries

Data Centers and Digital Infrastructure

Energy Law

Natural Gas