Overview

Tyler Dolan advises high-net-worth and ultra-high-net-worth individuals, families, and family enterprises on a broad range of trust and estate matters with a particular focus on structuring and preserving multigenerational wealth. His practice centers on the design and implementation of sophisticated estate plans, including advanced wealth transfer strategies such as GRATs, SLATs, IDGTs, QRPTs, and other irrevocable trusts, with careful consideration of estate, gift, generation-skipping transfer, and income tax implications.

Tyler regularly advises individuals and families on the design and implementation of tailored estate plans aligned with their specific goals and circumstances. He also serves as counsel to fiduciaries and beneficiaries in connection with the administration of trusts and estates, including probate proceedings and the preparation and filing of state and federal estate and gift tax returns.

Additionally, Tyler works closely with business owners and family enterprises on succession planning, ownership structuring, governance, and tax efficiency, helping clients transition wealth and control in a manner that preserves both enterprise value and the family legacy.

Tyler also advises on charitable planning, including the formation and administration of private foundations and obtaining tax-exempt status.
