Overview

Samantha advises high-net-worth individuals, families, family offices, estates, and closely held businesses on complex federal and state tax matters, estate planning, and wealth transfer strategies. Her practice encompasses estate and gift tax planning, business succession planning, tax compliance, and domestic and international tax matters. Drawing on her extensive experience in federal tax controversy, she also assists clients in navigating IRS examinations, administrative proceedings, and tax disputes.

Prior to entering private practice, Samantha served as an attorney in the IRS Office of Chief Counsel's Large Business & International Division, where she advised examination teams in the Global High Wealth and Large Partnership practices. In that role, she addressed complex domestic and international tax issues involving high-net-worth individuals, family offices, partnership taxation, and sophisticated business structures.
