

Kermit Wallace

Chief Information Officer

Parsippany, NJ | (973) 966-8015

kwallace@daypitney.com

Overview

Insights

Basic Tech and Cyber Competency for In-House Counsel: A Virtual Roundtable
September 23, 2020

In The Media

Is Generative AI Coming For Your Billable Hours?
Legaltech News, September 26, 2023

Are Law Firms' Real Estate and Tech Spending Invariably at Odds? It's Not That Simple
The American Lawyer, September 11, 2023

"The Technology Adoption Challenge of the 21st Century Lawyer," Wilson Allen
April 20, 2023

Firms See Cyber Incidents as Inevitable. So Why Aren't They Better Prepared?
Legaltech News, October 3, 2022

5 Ways the Pandemic Economy Is - And Isn't - Impacting Legal Tech
Legaltech News, November 30, 2021

Cybersecurity Isn't Just About Outside Threats. It's About Protecting Firms From Themselves
The American Lawyer, September 28, 2021

Hartford Area Law Firms Seek More Investment In Technology, Less on Office Space
Hartford Business Journal, September 6, 2021

What Pandemic Delay? Law Firms' Tech Roadmaps Back on Track
Legaltech News, July 27, 2021

Legal's Pandemic-Fueled Automation Binge Isn't Going Away
Law.com, April 12, 2021

The Pandemic Has Turbocharged Legal Automation - With Room to Spare
Legaltech News, April 5, 2021

Firms May Still Be Adopting Their Old Tools, Let Alone New Ones
Legaltech News, January 25, 2021

Security, Stress and Schedules: How Collaboration Tools Are Changing Legal's Culture
Legaltech News, November 20, 2020

Good Help Is (Still) Hard to Find in Legal IT and Cybersecurity
Law.com, August 7, 2020

Coronavirus Outbreak May Also Put Attorneys at Greater Risk for Cyber Infection
Law.com, March 23, 2020

Reimagining IT as a Business Intelligence Asset
February 5, 2020

How Can IT Sleep Better at Night? It Starts With Human Connection
Legaltech News, January 6, 2020

Law Firms Want Their Staff's Tech Opinions-But You Can't Please Everyone
LegalTech News, December 12, 2019

Goodbye Email, Hello Brave New World
LegalTech News, October 1, 2019

This Article Will Self-Destruct: Behind Ephemeral Messaging's In-House Rise
June 14, 2019

Should Law Firms Worry About The Cybersecurity Personnel Shortage?
May 30, 2019