Overview

Jenna Pepe represents businesses and corporations in complex commercial litigation matters. She defends clients in tort and product liability disputes.

Jenna served as a law clerk to the Honorable Joan K. Alexander, Associate Justice of the Connecticut Supreme Court. During law school, she worked as a research and teaching assistant for several courses, including evidence, insurance, constitutional law and legal writing. Jenna also was an intern at a major American insurance company, where she researched topics related to insurance coverage and extra-contractual litigation for the Claim Legal Group.

Prior to attending law school, Jenna was a litigation project assistant at Day Pitney, intern for the Office of State Senator Eric P. Lesser (D-MA) and constituent services intern for the Office of Senator Christopher Murphy (D-CT).
