Connecticut Law Tribune Profiles Day Pitney's New Social Media Task Force

Rick Harris was featured in a Connecticut Law Tribune article on Day Pitney's new Social Media Task Force. The article reported on the decision to bring together lawyers "from across the firm's practice areas and offices to discuss emerging legal issues related to commercial use of social media." Rick said the group was formed because of a "recognition of the need and desire for clients to better understand the risks and benefits of using the social media platforms."
