DP Sponsors BADCs Annual Judicial Reception

Day Pitney LLP is a proud sponsor of the 2018 Bar Association of the District of Columbia (BADC) Annual Judicial Reception, which will take place on October 17. The reception honors retiring and senior status judicial members for their outstanding commitment to the courts and the legal system and welcomes incoming judicial members.

Several attorneys in Day Pitney's Washington, D.C. office are actively involved with the BADC. Steven Cash serves on the BADC Board and co-chairs its Committee on National Security Law, Policy & Practice; Evan Reese serves as chair of its Energy Committee; James Blackburn serves as secretary of the Energy Committee; and Sunita Paknikar is treasurer of the Young Lawyer's Section. Earlier this month, Stan Twardy appeared, along with current U.S. Attorney for the District of Columbia and the former Assistant Attorney General for National Security, on a well-attended BADC panel discussing the relationship between U.S. Attorney's Offices and Main Justice. More about the BADC can be found at www.badc.org.
