September 10, 2010

Boston Business Journal Spotlights Day Pitney's Work with Boston Health Clinic

Leiha Macauley and John McLafferty were featured in a Boston Business Journal article for their role in helping Day Pitney become the first law firm in Boston to adopt a neighborhood health center. Since 2005, the firm has provided legal support (including more than 3400 hours of attorney time) to the East Boston Neighborhood Clinic, which is run by the Boston Medical Center. The article notes that the legal work offered by the firm includes matters such as immigration issues and landlord/tenant disputes.

View Article (subscription required)