

Practices & Industries

Energy Regulation and Compliance

Overview

Our Energy Regulation and Compliance practice group has been at the forefront of regulatory development in the energy industry. We are involved in nearly every wholesale market issue and the related financial credit issues arising in that market and assist clients across the country in meeting their obligations to comply with the evolving regulatory requirements. We work closely with state and federal regulators on a routine basis. We help our clients throughout North America navigate critical issues that define their evolution and identity in the changing world of the energy industry.

We represent large energy companies in virtually all aspects of their businesses, helping our clients chart a path through restructuring and deregulation of the evolving electric industry, as well as in the regulatory issues related to energy project development in the West, Southwest, Southeast, Midwest and Northeast regions of the United States. We represent the interests of energy clients before FERC, the DOE and other federal regulatory bodies in Washington, D.C., and confer with federal and state legislators, policymakers, and lobbyists on behalf of those clients.

Our Energy Regulation and Compliance practice group has been at the forefront of regulatory development in the energy industry. We are involved in nearly every wholesale market issue and the related financial credit issues arising in that market and assist clients across the country in meeting their obligations to comply with the evolving regulatory requirements. We work closely with state and federal regulators on a routine basis. We help our clients throughout North America navigate critical issues that define their evolution and identity in the changing world of the energy industry.

We represent large energy companies in virtually all aspects of their businesses, helping our clients chart a path through restructuring and deregulation of the evolving electric industry, as well as in the regulatory issues related to energy project development in the West, Southwest, Southeast, Midwest and Northeast regions of the United States. We represent the interests of energy clients before FERC, the DOE and other federal regulatory bodies in Washington, D.C., and confer with federal and state legislators, policymakers, and lobbyists on behalf of those clients.